

A1

comparing said data on the contents of said order included in said trading information with said present status of processing for the processing initiated for said order, said present status of processing for delivery of said product corresponding to said order and said present status of processing for the payment processing for said trading included in said trading processing information, and outputting a warning message, if erroneous conditions are included in any of said present status as a result of said comparing, including information of erroneous status.

---

A2

26. (Amended) A storage medium according to claim 25, further comprising:

a storage component having a code sequence for realizing the step of comparing said data on the contents of said order with said present status of processing for the processing initiated for said order, said present status of processing for delivery of said product corresponding to said order, and said present status of processing for the payment processing for said trading included in said trading processing information, and outputting a warning message, if erroneous conditions are included in any of said present status as a result of said comparing, including information of erroneous status.

---